River City Weld-Off Competition

Parkland School Division sent seven students to the River City Weld-Off on November 29. It is a welding competition put on in partnership with the Boilermakers Lodge 146 and local school divisions. Three students from Spruce Grove Composite High School and four students from Memorial Composite High School attended the competition. MCHS students: Milla Ennis-Soltys, Seth Eggleton, Shay Boyes and Abbygail Nichols competed well but were not successful in winning in the Beginner or the Advanced competition. SGCHS students: Jericho Gatinao, Nick Panchuk and Rhys Moyes attended and Jericho Gatinao won the beginner event. All of the students had a great day of welding, were treated to lunch, went home with a water bottle and a hat, and had the opportunity to learn about the Boilermakers as a career option.

Grade 10 students are completing their end table projects and will soon begin working with the lathes. The Grade 11 classes are in the process of finalizing their raised panel door cabinet projects.
